Methodology Details

Research & Entries

Global Finance's subject matter experts create a short list based on input from industry analysts, corporate executives and users of related services, in addition to conducting independent research. Potential winners are scored based on a proprietary algorithm. Final decisions are made by the Editorial Board of Global Finance.

Factors considered range from the quantitatively objective to the informed subjective. Among nominally objective criteria considered are such factors as growth in operations, position on league tables, profitability, geographic reach, strategic relationships, new business development and innovation in products. Subjective criteria include the opinions of analysts, ratings agencies, consultants, customers and others involved in the industry. The mix of these factors yields winners that may not be the largest, the oldest or the most diversified in a given country or sector, but rather the best – the provider with which most companies around the world are most likely to want to do business.

It is not necessary to enter in order to win in most cases, but experience shows entries increase the chance of success. In many cases, entrants are able to present information and perspectives that may not be readily available to the editors of Global Finance. All submissions are strictly confidential.

Go to GFMag.com for individual award entry requirements, which will be posted before the start of the review process.

Best Digital Bank Awards

Winners are chosen from entries evaluated by a world-class judging panel of IT consultants. Only banks entering the competition are considered for awards, and awards are given only in those regions and countries in which there are entries. Go to GFMag.com after January 31, 2021 for World's Best Digital Banks Call For Entries.

Safest Bank Rankings

Rankings of Safest Banks are based on a composite score derived from ratings provided by Fitch Ratings, Moody's Investors Service, and Standard & Poor's.
